OFFICIAL PUBLICATION OF THE WESTCHESTER COUNTY BOARD OF REALTORS, INC

Westchester Realtor Dr. Robert J. Flower has written a new book entitled Decoding Potential that provides readers with new insights into the mechanics of human thinking while exploring the many mysteries of life. Dr. Flower is a member of the Westchester County Board of Realtors and is the owner of the real estate firm Robert J. Flower & Co. of Bronxville.

Using existing models of thought and understanding from science and nature, Dr. Flower helps individuals to personally unlock their potential. The unique system he discovered called NATI, Natural Intelligence and Thinking, helps people achieve limitless success, he says.

The material and data from the findings in Decoding Potential can be used for developing oneself at any level and in any field including business, sports and personal matters. As opposed to focusing on just one aspect of life, Decoding Potential approaches all facets of one's life by using their innate virtues mixing common sense, nature and science, Dr. Flower maintains.
